The Fearful Famine in India.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The following news has been received by the steamer Scotia:

A Florence dispatch says the following are the principal conditions of the treaty of peace between Austria and Italy: The Austrian to be added to Italy, . . those which constitute the administration front of Venetia, while under Austrian dominion. The amount of the debt assumed by Italy is 35,000,000 florins, payable in eleven installments in twenty-three months. The Monte Lombardo Venetia is transferred to Italy with its actual assets and liabilities. Its assets are 3,500,000 florins and its liabilities 60,000,000 florins.

Until further arrangement the revenues of the two networks of railways north and south of the Alps will be allowed to accumulate in order to calculate the gross revenue, which should serve as a basis for the valuation of the Kilometric guarantee. Measures are to be taken to separate the networks of railways, and commerce the undisturbed portion. The Venetians residing in Austria are to have the right of preserving their Austrian nationality. All objects of art, as well as the archives belonging to Venetia, will be restored. The iron crown of Lombardy will also be given up to Italy.

At a later stage he said: But I have great faith in the honor and the good intention of the South, and I am not ashamed to say that my heart has gone out to them. I think that when ten years shall have passed away to have it understood that there was one man here and he an abolitionist of the darkest age, who, after the war was all over, had a prayer for that part of the country also, and who was sorry for their sorrows and their mistakes, and who, although indignant at their crimes, was ready to welcome them as soon as from his judgment and government during the war, yet yearned at its close for their restoration as a part of the Union, and held out the helping hand in the man's mind and intention, who pledged them in that matter; not that he would leave the restoration to be accompanied without law, but, on the contrary, would help it with every legal enactments with testimony of sympathy and kindness as to make in the South a beginning of that public sentiment which diminishes the operation of the dying laws. This is my faith and my heresy.

Mr. Beecher closed by expressing his belief that it was necessary to give the testimony of the South now with a volume, a fullness and a decisiveness that shall admit of no misunderstanding, and that when they who represent the people again . . . [illegible] . . . shall be with all the North behind them and endorsing them.

THE QUEBEC CONFLAGRATION.

Six Lives Lost---Measures for Relief of the Sufferers.

QUEBEC, C. E., October 16.—At a public meeting called to devise means for the relief of the sufferers by the late fire fifteen thousand dollars were subscribed. A treasurer was appointed to receive further contributions. The number of lives lost is now known to be six. The number of houses burnt is found to be even larger than previously estimated and numbers 2,300. Nearly twenty thousand people are without shelter. The skating rink, drill sheds, marine hospital, Jacques Cartier Hall and lower town market are filled with people. The weather is very favorable.

Henry Ward Beecher on Reconstruction---Annual Meeting of the Executive Committee of the Christian Commission.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The speech of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, at the Brooklyn meeting last night attracts general attention. In opening his speech last night, Mr. Beecher laid down the following as the things necessary to be done in reconstructing the Union.

First, The utter destruction of slavery root and branch which has been the fundamental cause of national discord, treason and war.

Second, The purgation of the Constitution of all influences derived from slavery and the purgation of the laws and civil courts of all customs and proceedings derived from slavery or infected with it.

Third, The re-adjustment of the sundered political relation of States long in the condition of suspended animation.

Fourth, The security, the education, and the enfranchisement of the negro population happily now made free.

Fifth, The re-establishment of good will and cordiality among alienated citizens, the revival of the sentiment of unity in national life, the renewal of enterprize, industry and commerce, which under the circulation of vigor in the body, places the whole nation under the influence of one common central vital life—some might be inclined, perhaps, to add a sixth head, the duties of loyalty, nationality and foreign relations and their adjustment; but so long as we are at peace at home we have no foreign relations.

At a later stage he said: But I have great faith in the honor and the good intention of the South, and I am not ashamed to say that my heart has gone out to them. I think that when ten years shall have passed away to have it understood that there was one man here and he an abolitionist of the darkest age, who, after the war was all over, had a prayer for that part of the country also, and who was sorry for their sorrows and their mistakes, and who, although indignant at their crimes, was ready to welcome them as soon as from his judgment and government during the war, yet yearned at its close for their restoration as a part of the Union, and held out the helping hand in the man's mind and intention, who pledged them in that matter; not that he would leave the restoration to be accompanied without law, but, on the contrary, would help it with every legal enactments with testimony of sympathy and kindness as to make in the South a beginning of that public sentiment which diminishes the operation of the dying laws. First. Boards for the examination of applicants for appointment in the army will not pass any candidates who have not the physical ability to endure the exposures of the service, which in any soldier's body, or whose moral habits are bad. This restriction in case of officers for the Veteran Reserve Corps is modified by the terms of the act admitting such as have been wounded in the line of their duty while serving in the army of the United States in the late war, and who may yet be deemed competent for garrison or other duty to which that corps has heretofore been assigned.

If re-married after the passage of the act, then the widow would not be entitled to the bounty.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

WASHINGTON, October 11th, 1866.

To the Attorney General of the United States for the Middle District of Tennessee:

SIR—This Department has received information that measures are in progress for the purpose of inducing the freedmen to move to foreign countries, especially to Peru, by promises of high wages and other inducements. If there is reason to believe that these promises will not be performed the condition of the freedmen would not, in most instances, be improved by the change, it is deemed to be the duty of the Government to prevent that by all legal and moral means from being thus imposed upon. This circular is addressed to you for that purpose with the assent of the Attorney General, you will do anything that you possibly can towards causing it to be carried into effect.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

W. H. SEWARD.

Indictment of Hughes, Morrow, and Others---The Kempers---Origin of a Rumor Respecting Freedmen.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 16.—Kirby Hughes, Morrow and the two Kempers were brought before the United States Court on a writ of habeas corpus requiring General Davis to produce them. They were severally indicted for stopping the United States mail carrier Dr. Farris, and detaining the mail bags at Ghent, Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 16.—The rumor of the outbreak among the negroes which prevailed here yesterday, is unfounded. It arose from the fact that a number were arrested last week on vagrancy charges, preparatory to their being sent to work their plantations in Mississippi. Some of the negroes in question refused to go when they were sold into slavery, producing excitement which it was feared would create a riot. No disorder of any kind has occurred. The United States Attorney yesterday received the following dispatch:

Mexican Matters---Mejia's Victory Disbelieved.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The news of the defeat of Gen. Escobado by Mejia is not believed here.

The last dates from the City of Mexico received in this city are up to the 5th ult. Gen. Mejia was then about starting from Mexico City for San Luis Potosi. It is utterly impossible that in fifteen days he could have marched from the City of Mexico to San Luis a distance of nearly eight hundred miles and have captured that city and the news of it has been received at Matamoras.

The only reason to doubt the authenticity of M. Etomes' letter to Maximilian published in Monday's papers. The original of it with other papers of minor importance, both proving its authenticity, were received in this city a few days ago, and shown to several members of the diplomatic corps. On the 16th inst. they were forwarded to the State Department and are now there.

Extra Session of Mississippi Legislature---Governor's Message.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16.—The Mississippi Legislature met yesterday in extra session. The Governor's message says the necessities of the State constrained him to call the Legislature together. No special emergency but general exigency, resulting from the altered and deranged condition of the relations of persons and communities in the States and the removal of the negro troops from the State, and transfer of the Freedmen's Bureau to officers of the regular army are the only words except He deplores the state of the country; indicates the Constitutional Amendment, but presumes a mere reading of it by them will suffice to recommend the admission of negro testimony in all the courts; requests provision will be made for the education of indigent children of Confederate soldiers, and for the relief of destitute disabled Confederate and State soldiers. Other portions of the message are purely local.

The Cholera in Germany.

NEW YORK, October 16.—The Berlin correspondent of the London Times says: The cholera continues to show itself with increased violence in most parts of Germany. At present it is most virulent in the Newmark, the northeastern portion of Brandenburg, on the right bank of the Oder. There some small towns have been positively decimated. In Omswalde, a town of six thousand inhabitants, six hundred have died. In Newsana, nearly one hundred dollars was subscribed, a treasurer was not contributed a case, or which is about the same as death. In Soudin and Konigsburg, two other towns in that neighborhood, the mortality is as great, while the villages of the entire district in striking contrast with the towns, are all but free from the taint northwest of Berlin. Wurtemburg is also suffering which were dangerous centres of the disease, have now, happily, ceased to supply their former quota.

Freedmen Murdered While Attempting to Escape---Favorable Weather.

AUGUSTA, Ga., October 16.—Sullivan was shot in Columbia county last night. The outrage originated from a difficulty with a white man which the freedmen reported General Tilson, who had ordered him to work rations from the civil authorities. A party of white men surrounded his house last night and murdered him while he was attempting to escape. The citizens are indignant at the outrage. A military force has been sent to arrest the perpetrators. Several jayhawkers have been arrested in the county by the military.

There has been a slight frost in this vicinity. The weather is favorable for the cotton crop, which is looking better.

Hoboken Races---First Day.

HOBOKEN, Oct. 16.—The first race to-day was a hurdle race of two miles. Zigzag and Gen. Williams ran a dead heat; Secucus and Lady Wolf threw their riders. In the second heat Zigzag beat Gen. Williams two lengths; Time 4.37 and 4.09¾. Second race---half mile heats for two year olds. Morrow's Eclipse, colt, won, Rowling second, Jubal third. Eclipse, fillely, was distanced in the second heat by a bad start; time 54½ to 51½. Third race---Sweepstakes, one mile and a quarter---Lady Hamilton's mare beat Susie in two lengths; time 2:05½; 1st mile 1:49¼.

Case of the Rebel Lieutnat Braine Postponed.

NEW YORK, October 16.—The case of Lieut. Braine of the rebel navy, indicted for piracy and murder on the high seas in seizing the steamer Chesapeake during her voyage from New York to Portland, and killing one of her officers, was to have been tried this morning, but, on motion of the prisoner's counsel, it was postponed to allow him time to procure testimony for the defense from the south. The case will come up again on the 30th inst.

Cable Dispatches---British Markets.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 16.—The market for cotton is quite active; sales to-day 20,000 bales. Middling Uplands are quoted at 19¾d.

The weather is still unfavorable for crops and the Breadstuffs market tends upwards. Corn has advanced to 30 per cental for Mixed Western.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Money market steady. Consols for money 89½. The following are the closing prices for American securities: Erie, 49; Illinois Central, 78½; 5-20s, 68¾.

The Eight Hour System Adopted in the Government Printing Office.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The Post's special says: The Government printing office has acceded to the demand for the adoption of the eight hour system, and work has been resumed.

George S. Hillcard has been appointed to the U. S. District Attorneyship at Boston.

River at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 16.—The River is rising slowly, with seven feet three inches of water in the Canal. The weather is clear and pleasant.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON THIRD PAGE.)

The Lawrenceville Homicide---Trial of James Laughran for the Murder of Geo. M. Dallas Myers.

In the Court of Oyer and Terminer, yesterday morning, Judges Sterrett, Mellon and Brown on the bench, the case of James Laughran, indicted for the murder, on the 9th of August last, of George M. Dallas Myers, at Lawrenceville, was taken up. District Attorney L. B. Duff, assisted by J. C. McCarthy, Esq., and Jacob Whitesell, Esq., appeared for the Commonwealth, and Hon. J. M. Kirkpatrick, Thos. M. Marshall, Esq., and Wm. Reardon, Esq., for the defense.

The prisoner was duly arraigned according to prescribed form, and plead not guilty, after which the jury was empannelled as follows:

Thomas T. Woods,	Hugh Northwood,
Samuel Alter,	John Horn,
David Robinson,	John McDonald,
Andrew Tilbrook,	C. F. Whiston,
James Robinson,	Adam Bonshire,
Thomas P. Austin,	Joseph Best.

The case for the Commonwealth was opened by J. C. McCarthy, Esq., who addressed the jury briefly and forcibly, setting forth the points of the case upon which they were to decide, and declining to them the different degrees of murder. The Commonwealth would prove that this was a case of willful and deliberate killing, without any sufficient provocation. Several facts which were to appear in the testimony in support of this ground, were cited by the counsel, and his address closed with an appeal to the jury to decide the case thoughtfully and dispassionately.

The first witness sworn was James K. Polk Myers---Live in Lawrenceville; the deceased was my twin brother. He was cut on the 9th of August last, and died on the morning of the 10th. He died at our home on Butler street, Lawrenceville. It was about one o'clock on the morning of the 10th; his death was caused by the cut of the night before. On that night I was sitting at the door, when I heard a noise above the house and went up to see what it was. I found my brother there with some others, in a little fuss; I brought my brother home and laid down on the floor; he laid there about five minutes and then got up and went out; I followed him and urged him not to go, and asked him to sit down on the steps by me. He seemed a little intoxicated and staggered past me to the side walk. Laughran and Hall, the latter being only, and Craig, and I think Hall, came past, and Laughran and my brother clinched. I got up and saw Laughran had his right arm around with a side motion, as if cutting my brother; think that was the time he cut him, though I am not sure. After this Laughran ran out and Craig followed him. Hall went to bring him his hat. The other two men ran after Laughran. Don't know whether they went with him. When Laughran ran, my brother started after him, but after he got to the corner when they came up, and came from towards the Arsenal. Didn't hear anything said before the fight; the two clinched without any words that I heard. Did not see Craig or Hall with them; I was sitting in the door and they were struggling on the sidewalk. When Laughran started off my brother was in his hand, but he could not have cut him afterwards, for he was not near enough to him. It was two or three minutes after the blow that my brother called that he was cut. Laughran had started run away towards the city, and I saw nothing more of him or his comrades that night. The fight occurred between nine and ten o'clock. Examination---Was on the corner of Butler and Wainright streets; had some conversation with him with him about the difficulty (Counsel for Commonwealth asked what defendant had said. Counsel for defense objected to any statement of what took place after the occurrence. The Commonwealth proposed to prove that defendant had admitted the cutting, and that he said he had cut Myers in self-defense. The Court required the Counsel for the Commonwealth to put their offer in writing. This was done, and the Court sustained the proposition.) The witness resumed---Had been up to see the wounded man and was coming away; when I got to the corner some person---Hall or Craig---said, "Look out, there he is, Bob!" and Laughran came out and said, "how is that little affair of mine?" I said I did not know much about it, but one of Myers' boys was badly cut. He said, "I know he's cut one of them, and I cut him a d---d sight deeper than he thinks I did. I wish I had cut his d---d heart out."

Cross-examined---I judge of the interval between the cutting and this conversation by the fact that when I heard that Susan had went to the house they said the cutting had just taken place, and this was about twenty-five minutes before my conversation with defendant.

The case closed the testimony for the Commonwealth.

THE DEFENSE.

The case for the defense was opened by Hon. J. M. Kirkpatrick, who addressed the jury, rehearsing the circumstances which occurred previous to the cutting, and stating that the defense would be able to prove aggravated provocation on the part of the deceased, and that the defendant had endeavored to avoid subsequent collision with Myers, and that the collision was precipitated through Myers' own action in spite of defendant's efforts to get away and that the cutting was eventually done by defendant in self-defense.

Benjamin Hall was summoned, but the Commonwealth objected to the witness as one who had been indicted as an accessory before the fact. Pending the decision of the Court

James K. Polk Myers, was recalled by the Commonwealth to prove the identity of the witness Hall, and after considerable argument was permitted to testify---I made an information before McCarthy, charging Benjamin Hall and another with being an accessory to the killing of my brother. The witness now on the stand, is the one against whom the informat on was made; I knew him before the occurrence of the cutting.

After this testimony, the District Attorney submitted the indictment against Hall, as the grounds for rejecting the testimony of Hall. The objections of the Commonwealth were sustained by the Court, and the witness retired.

Mrs. Eliza Smith, sworn---Live in Lawrenceville, some distance from Mrs. Myers' house; happened to be at the door of my house at the time the difficulty occurred. As I stood there I heard a voice saying, "Let me go." (The witness was proceeding to relate the conversation, but the witness was permitted to go on. I heard the voice repeat two or three times, "Let me go," and at last it said, "Let me go or I'll stick you." My husband, Dr. Smith, was about the house at the time.

Dr. William J. Smith, sworn---Was in my yard at the time of the difficulty, and heard the noise of the disturbance but paid no attention to it, as I thought it was no serious matter; heard the noise between nine and ten o'clock. I had come home and was unhitching my horse.

Cross-examined---I heard the noise when I was in my yard, between my house and my stable.

R. S. Greig, sworn---I was sitting on the Arsenal wall with Laughran and Hall, when Myers and Copeland came along apparently very drunk. Myers swung around near us and struck his head against Hall. Hall said, "Look out, you bumped me in the eye." Myers said, "Well, you just bump me in the eye," and tried to get his coat off. When he turned about and knocked my head, knocking my hat off. As I stooped to pick up my hat I heard Laughran exclaim, "Look out, let me go." Did not see Myers do any thing special to Laughran, but he and Copeland seemed very drunk, and acted as though they wanted to fight. Did not see where Laughran went. Myers followed me for a little ways.

Washington Harper sworn---Was at the Arsenal wall with Laughran and the others, and Myers came down with some others; Myers swung around and bumped Hall in the face; Greig got down and said we had better be going, for there would be a fight; Myers and Greig then got into a tussle, and Copeland and Hall were also scuffling; did not see Laughran in the difficulty at all; heard Myers say that he was going to have satisfaction out of the crowd; Laughran was in the crowd.

Cross-examined---Myers was by the gate when he made this remark, and was swearing and cursing around; Myers and Laughran had not had any difficulty that I had seen.

James Greig called---The Commonwealth objected to this witness being sworn, as he was indicted in the indictment against Benjamin Hall, as accessories before the crime. James K. Polk Myers was recalled by the Commonwealth and identified the proposed witness as the one against whom he had made the information before Mayor McCarthy. The defense claimed that the identification was not perfect, inasmuch as the prisoner named in the indictment was James Craig, whereas the name of the proposed witness was James Greig, and the counsel for the defence proposed to bring witnesses to prove that the witness's name was properly James Greig, and not Craig, as named in the indictment. The District Attorney maintained that the spelling of the name had nothing to do with the identity of him and that he was indicted as the man against whom the indictment was made.

Witnesses were called by the defense and testified that the witness was universally called Greig by his friends and family.

On the other hand a witness called by the Commonwealth testified that he knew the witness for seven or eight years and had never heard him called anything else than Craig. At this stage of the proceedings the counsel for the defense rested their case, and Benjamin Hall also admitted as a witness, on the ground that he and Greig were the only persons who were with Laughran at the time of the difficulty. The offer was sustained, and the objections of the Commonwealth were sustained.

A. B. Hanlon, sworn---Have known defendant since he was ten years old, and have always known him to be peaceable and quiet.

Robert Elliott, sworn---An Superintendent in Reese, Graff & Dull's---Defendant was formerly employed there and bore an excellent character.

Mr. Walsh sworn---Have known defendant fifteen years. He has a good character.

A. J. Dull sworn---Laughran worked for us at our works in Pitt township for two years. He had a good reputation, and I never saw anything out of the way in him.

Henry T. O'Kain, sworn---Have known the defendant twelve years; his character for peace is good.

Thomas Kiernan, sworn---Have known defendant seven years; his character in the neighborhood in which he lived is good.

Other witnesses were called and testified to the good character of the defendant. The testimony as to character closed the case for the defence.

John C. McCarthy, Esq., summed up the case for the Commonwealth, addressing the jury at considerable length, rehearsing the facts previously adduced and arguing with shrewdness, from the data so furnished the guilt of the prisoner, claiming that Laughran had the most heartless crimes recently perpetrated.

On behalf of the defence, Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., next addressed the jury. The jury had but one question before them; they must decide by plain common sense, without reference to meaningless distinctions, whether this young man---a mere boy---had the cool maliciousness and fore-thought, deliberately taken the life of a fellow man. Mr. Marshall then proceeded to review the facts as presenting the case on the part of the defence, strong points of the defence with great power, and quoting authorities to fortify the positions derived from these facts.

At the conclusion of the gentleman's address, the Court adjourned until this morning.

The Sheriffalty Contest.

When Mr. Cluley, our Sheriff elect, was first nominated the question of his eligibility was broached and discussed to some extent. His friends and himself felt sufficiently assured of his eligibility to the office, to warrant them in holding to the course they had adopted. Since the result of the recent election has been made known, Mr. J. Y. McLaughlin, late Democratic candidate for Sheriff, has taken the initatory steps towards contesting the election of Mr. Samuel B. Cluley, to the Sheriffalty. After the decease of Mr. Harry Woods, some three years ago, Mr. Cluley, who was a deputy in the office, was, by the appointment of Sheriff, for the purpose of securing for Mrs. Woods and family the proceeds of the office until a successor to her husband was duly elected. Did such a one not fill the office within the term, and Mr. McLaughlin, knowing that in the event of Mr. Cluley being declared ineligible, the office will devolve upon him, has retained the services of Colonel R. Biddle Roberts, who has taken the necessary steps towards having a preliminary injunction issued restraining the former from commissioning Mr. Cluley. The term of the present incumbent will not expire until December, at which time the case will be brought before the District Court, and will probably be carried up to the Supreme Court of the State. Mr. Cluley has consulted with eminent counsel, who are of opinion that his claims are legal and will be sustained by the Courts.

We opine that the contest will prove futile on the part of Mr. McLaughlin, and that the people of the county will have their expressed desire gratified, and see Mr. Cluley securely occupying the position to which they have assigned him.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The Opera House was crowded last evening to witness the new domestic drama of the "Porter's Knot" with C.W. Couldock and daughter in the cast. To say the new play is good is but reiterating the sentiments of every person who witnessed it. The plot is simple, yet ingeniously put together, and the denouement is all that could be wished-for. As Sampson Burr Mr. Couldock cannot be equalled, and in the many scenes of pathos he was called upon to depict, I never saw anything out of the way in him.

Commencing on Monday next, and for two nights before the difficulty that I had last seen my brother. When the men came past the house they were in the same side of the street as the witness. A diagram of Lawrenceville was shown to the prisoner, and he pointed out the locality. The trouble occurred opposite our door on the opposite side. Did not hear the three men making any disturbance before they got to us. The night was very dark and there was no light except what came from the lamp which is over our door. Did not hear the defendant say two or three times "let me go." They were in front of the light when they struggled. Could not distinguish by which took hold of the other first. They were clinched together when Laughran struck my brother.

Dr. Thomas Robinson, sworn---Am a practising physician in Lawrenceville. Attended Geo. M. Dallas Myers up to his death. He died of a small cut in the left side, made by some small sharp instrument, which severed the internal epigastric artery, and death ensued from internal hemorrhage. The wound was a little more than an inch in length, and a depth of sufficient depth to reach through the muscles of the abdomen to the cavity containing the bowels. The bowels themselves were not cut. The wound was inflicted with a knife, and deceased died from no other cause, as was proved by post mortem examination.

Cross-examined---The wound was a very small one, and to appearance was not a fatal one. It seemed to have been made by the small blade of an ordinary pocket knife. He might have died in a few minutes after receiving that artery cut. The cutting of the artery was a mere accident.

Re-direct---The artery cut is a vital one, and injury to it would be fatal. A punctured wound more frequently becomes larger than smaller after the cutting. The risk in getting at the artery and tying it would be dangerous, and the risk of letting him alone in his previous condition.

George Zelgler, sworn---Live in Lawrenceville, about half-past nine o'clock, on the night of August 9th, I was standing on the corner of Allen and Butler streets near Mrs. Myers' house. Saw three men coming down Butler street. Mrs. Myers', and George Myers came out upon the pavement. One of the men and Myers clinched and struggled for two or three minutes, when they separated, and Myers said he was hit with a knife. The three men ran down the street and Myers ran after him a few feet. I went to Myers and we carried him in. Did not hear any words except just as they clinched, I heard one of them say "there you are." Think the one who clinched with Myers was Laughran.

Cross-examined---Think it was forty feet from where I stood to the place of the struggle. The night was very dark; I was examined before the Coroner's Jury in this case; can't recollect having said before the Coroner's Jury that Myers said, when Laughran came up, "you son of a b---h." Am certain that I did not say that Myers used those words; did not go to the scene of the struggle; did not hear Myers say that he was hit while they were still together; when they separated, Myers went about forty feet after Laughran.

Thomas Ryan, sworn---Am a police officer, and arrested Laughran on the morning of the 10th of August, between one and two o'clock. Found him at his home in Lawrenceville, had a little conversation with him after his arrest; did not offer any inducements to tell me all he knew about the case; don't think I told Laughran that Myers was not badly hurt; I asked him for the knife; he said he had no knife; I asked him how he did the cutting without the knife; he said it was not his knife, but he had such a knife; Laughran did not mention the knife's name.

Cross-examined---The prisoner was sound asleep when I arrested him, and it was on the way to the Lock-up that he spoke to me.

The Court adjourned until one o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Court reassembled at one o'clock and the examination of witnesses was resumed.

Robert Elliott, sworn---Live at Lawrenceville; present at the death of George M. Myers; saw Laughran about twenty minutes after the affray which caused Myers' death; met him at the corner of Butler and Wainright streets; had some conversation with him with him about the difficulty (Counsel for Commonwealth asked what defendant had said. Counsel for defense objected to any statement of what took place after the occurrence. The Commonwealth proposed to prove that defendant had admitted the cutting, and that he said he had cut Myers in self-defense. The Court required the Counsel for the Commonwealth to put their offer in writing. This was done, and the Court sustained the proposition.) The witness resumed---Had been up to see the wounded man and was coming away; when I got to the corner some person---Hall or Craig---said, "Look out, there he is, Bob!" and Laughran came out and said, "how is that little affair of mine?" I said I did not know much about it, but one of Myers' boys was badly cut. He said, "I know he's cut one of them, and I cut him a d---d sight deeper than he thinks I did. I wish I had cut his d---d heart out."

Cross-examined---I judge of the interval between the cutting and this conversation by the fact that when I heard that Susan had went to the house they said the cutting had just taken place, and this was about twenty-five minutes before my conversation with defendant.

The case closed the testimony for the Commonwealth.

THE DEFENSE.

The case for the defense was opened by Hon. J. M. Kirkpatrick, who addressed the jury, rehearsing the circumstances which occurred previous to the cutting, and stating that the defense would be able to prove aggravated provocation on the part of the deceased, and that the defendant had endeavored to avoid subsequent collision with Myers, and that the collision was precipitated through Myers' own action in spite of defendant's efforts to get away and that the cutting was eventually done by defendant in self-defense.

Benjamin Hall was summoned, but the Commonwealth objected to the witness as one who had been indicted as an accessory before the fact. Pending the decision of the Court

James K. Polk Myers, was recalled by the Commonwealth to prove the identity of the witness Hall, and after considerable argument was permitted to testify---I made an information before McCarthy, charging Benjamin Hall and another with being an accessory to the killing of my brother. The witness now on the stand, is the one against whom the informat on was made; I knew him before the occurrence of the cutting.

After this testimony, the District Attorney submitted the indictment against Hall, as the grounds for rejecting the testimony of Hall. The objections of the Commonwealth were sustained by the Court, and the witness retired.

Mrs. Eliza Smith, sworn---Live in Lawrenceville, some distance from Mrs. Myers' house; happened to be at the door of my house at the time the difficulty occurred. As I stood there I heard a voice saying, "Let me go." (The witness was proceeding to relate the conversation, but the witness was permitted to go on. I heard the voice repeat two or three times, "Let me go," and at last it said, "Let me go or I'll stick you." My husband, Dr. Smith, was about the house at the time.

Dr. William J. Smith, sworn---Was in my yard at the time of the difficulty, and heard the noise of the disturbance but paid no attention to it, as I thought it was no serious matter; heard the noise between nine and ten o'clock. I had come home and was unhitching my horse.

Cross-examined---I heard the noise when I was in my yard, between my house and my stable.

R. S. Greig, sworn---I was sitting on the Arsenal wall with Laughran and Hall, when Myers and Copeland came along apparently very drunk. Myers swung around near us and struck his head against Hall. Hall said, "Look out, you bumped me in the eye." Myers said, "Well, you just bump me in the eye," and tried to get his coat off. When he turned about and knocked my head, knocking my hat off. As I stooped to pick up my hat I heard Laughran exclaim, "Look out, let me go." Did not see Myers do any thing special to Laughran, but he and Copeland seemed very drunk, and acted as though they wanted to fight. Did not see where Laughran went. Myers followed me for a little ways.

Washington Harper sworn---Was at the Arsenal wall with Laughran and the others, and Myers came down with some others; Myers swung around and bumped Hall in the face; Greig got down and said we had better be going, for there would be a fight; Myers and Greig then got into a tussle, and Copeland and Hall were also scuffling; did not see Laughran in the difficulty at all; heard Myers say that he was going to have satisfaction out of the crowd; Laughran was in the crowd.

Cross-examined---Myers was by the gate when he made this remark, and was swearing and cursing around; Myers and Laughran had not had any difficulty that I had seen.

James Greig called---The Commonwealth objected to this witness being sworn, as he was indicted in the indictment against Benjamin Hall, as accessories before the crime. James K. Polk Myers was recalled by the Commonwealth and identified the proposed witness as the one against whom he had made the information before Mayor McCarthy. The defense claimed that the identification was not perfect, inasmuch as the prisoner named in the indictment was James Craig, whereas the name of the proposed witness was James Greig, and the counsel for the defence proposed to bring witnesses to prove that the witness's name was properly James Greig, and not Craig, as named in the indictment. The District Attorney maintained that the spelling of the name had nothing to do with the identity of him and that he was indicted as the man against whom the indictment was made.

Witnesses were called by the defense and testified that the witness was universally called Greig by his friends and family.

On the other hand a witness called by the Commonwealth testified that he knew the witness for seven or eight years and had never heard him called anything else than Craig. At this stage of the proceedings the counsel for the defense rested their case, and Benjamin Hall also admitted as a witness, on the ground that he and Greig were the only persons who were with Laughran at the time of the difficulty. The offer was sustained, and the objections of the Commonwealth were sustained.

A. B. Hanlon, sworn---Have known defendant since he was ten years old, and have always known him to be peaceable and quiet.

Robert Elliott, sworn---An Superintendent in Reese, Graff & Dull's---Defendant was formerly employed there and bore an excellent character.

Mr. Walsh sworn---Have known defendant fifteen years. He has a good character.

A. J. Dull sworn---Laughran worked for us at our works in Pitt township for two years. He had a good reputation, and I never saw anything out of the way in him.

Henry T. O'Kain, sworn---Have known the defendant twelve years; his character for peace is good.

Thomas Kiernan, sworn---Have known defendant seven years; his character in the neighborhood in which he lived is good.

Other witnesses were called and testified to the good character of the defendant. The testimony as to character closed the case for the defence.

John C. McCarthy, Esq., summed up the case for the Commonwealth, addressing the jury at considerable length, rehearsing the facts previously adduced and arguing with shrewdness, from the data so furnished the guilt of the prisoner, claiming that Laughran had the most heartless crimes recently perpetrated.

On behalf of the defence, Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., next addressed the jury. The jury had but one question before them; they must decide by plain common sense, without reference to meaningless distinctions, whether this young man---a mere boy---had the cool maliciousness and fore-thought, deliberately taken the life of a fellow man. Mr. Marshall then proceeded to review the facts as

CONGRESS APPROVED.

During the first session of the present Congress—a large majority of the members of which were chosen in 1864—many of the gentlemen who composed it were in doubt whether the people would sustain them in the course they took in resistance to the usurpations of the President. Nevertheless, with very few exceptions, they stood firm to the principles upon which they were elected. They did what they believed to be their duty, and trusted to the intelligence of their constituents for the vindication of their acts. In this trust they have not been disappointed; for already from Maine to Iowa, as with the voice of one man, the people have said, "Well done."

But was Congress at the last session in advance of the people, or were the people in advance of Congress? What say the votes? They say, almost without exception, that the boldest and most radical of the members are the most in favor with the people. All of this class who were candidates for re-election have been chosen by very large and generally increased majorities; while the more timid seem to some extent to have lost in popular confidence and favor. One, Mr. DELANO, of Ohio, who was weak-kneed and vascillating, was defeated.

This being so, we may infer that the men who stood most firmly up to the great principles which carried us through the war, and enabled the loyal men of the country to "crush the rebellion," were the nearest right in the judgment of the country; and as that great job is not quite finished, so long as President JOHNSON maintains the attitude of the champion of those who tried to crush the government, and who, so far from manifesting any contrition for their great crime, rather glory in it, the people have emphatically endorsed the action of Congress in the premises and repudiated the "policy" of the President. But it does not follow, because they have approved of the just and generous plan of reconstruction proposed by Congress, that any harsh measures would be approved. Congress was approved because it did right; the President is condemned because he is wrong.

The sum of the whole matter is this: So far as the suffrages of the country have been given, they announce its decision to be, that the rebel States shall not be restored to the places from which they seceded except upon the terms prescribed by Congress, and until they shall, by their own acts, show that they accept those terms in good faith in all their length and breadth. That point may be regarded as settled.

THE LATE HOAX.

The man who furnished the report of the series of questions alleged to have been propounded by the President to the Attorney General, the publication of which made such a commotion in the country, persists in maintaining that he had good and sufficient reasons for what he did. He may have heard reports which he believed; but to put these vague reports into the shape of a series of definite questions, and palm them upon the country as emanating from the President in that form, was an act which he will find it difficult to justify.

But the opinion which honest men may form of the act and its perpetrator, who is simply a liar and a forger, is a matter so unimportant as not to be worth discussing. But why was it that a story, which, in the days of any other President, would not have met the smallest degree of credence, so alarmed and disturbed the country? Because, if it was not genuine—as it certainly was not—it was a very good counterfeit. If those words were not ANDREW JOHNSON'S, they were very much like some he has uttered. He alone gave it what plausibility it had; and the very fact that such a report could have had the effect that this one had is a startling evidence that a bad and dangerous man is at the head of the government. Threats of some such movement as was foreshadowed in these bogus questions have been uttered, and these threats and hints caused this reported series of questions to be regarded for a time as genuine.

What course the President might have taken towards Congress, had the elections gone otherwise than they did, is a matter of conjecture only; but from the terms of bitter hostility and contempt which he has repeatedly used towards that body, we may estimate the dangers over which this flood-tide of popular patriotism has borne the national barque. But being unable to inaugurate a revolution with any prospect of success, because the people are against him, and being unable either to change, or set aside, or control the representatives of the nation, we are satisfied that he will now give up the idea of playing the part of dictator.

THE GREAT FIRE IN QUEBEC.

The telegraph yesterday brought us a brief account of another great calamity by fire which has befallen this ancient Canadian city, more than two thousand dwellings and some fourteen churches having been laid in ruins, leaving not less than eighteen thousand people houseless and homeless. This calamity is the greater because it happened so near to the beginning of the long and rigorous Canadian winter. The case of those unfortunate people appeals strongly to the sympathies of the Christian world, which ought to know no national boundaries.

Two terrible fires occurred in that city in 1845—the year of the great fire in this city—at only a month's interval. Nearly three thousand houses were burned in the faubourgs of St. Roch and St. John, involving a loss of property of about $8,000,000.

In 1844 the population of Quebec was a little over thirty-five thousand. It may now be in the neighborhood of fifty thousand. It is probably the oldest city on the continent, having been founded by Samuel Champlain in 1608, twelve years before the landing of the pilgrims on Plymouth Rock.

INCREASE OF MARRIAGES.—The Cincinnati Gazette notices at length the remarkable increase in the number of marriages during the last statistical year—1865-6—as compared with any previous year either before or during the war. The number in thirteen counties in Ohio are given as follows:

	1859-'60.	1865-'66.	Inc. per ct.
Hamilton	3,451	3,515	44
Cuyahoga	993	1,316	32
Athens	213	352	60
Darke	232	374	60
Gallia	208	324	56
Highland	230	351	52
Miami	274	453	65
Montgomery	570	730	15
Muskingum	329	560	70
Ross	315	483	53
Stark	324	537	65
Washington	247	386	67
Wood	121	305	140

The official vote of Indiana, as far as received, does not materially change results already given. The State ticket will have a little over 14,000 majority. Grover will contest the election of Holman in the Fourth District.

A Wonderful Physiological Phenomenon—Death of a Young Woman for Whom Mr. Barnum Offered $25,000—Touching Record of a Mother's Devotion.

Within the past two days there died at her obscure home, at No. — Lewis street, in this city, a singular and unfortunate creature, whose existence was known to but few, although she presented the strongest attraction to the curiosity not only of the mere crowd, but also to that of the most scientific and philosophical minds of the day. It is rare, in these days of Barnumism and humbug, and exhibitions of dwarfs and monstrosities, and idiots, such as Blind Tom and the Aztec Children, that a case occurs in which delicacy and sensitiveness and repugnance to the popular gaze are carried to the extent that they were in the case of this singular freak of disease. When it is stated that in a girl eighteen years of age the morbid action commenced in early life was such that, while the nutrition and growth of the body were arrested, the cranium continued to enlarge beyond all precedent, so as to constitute, at length, an immense globe, of which the body in its puny condition seemed but an appendage—when it is considered that up to a late period this extraordinary person possessed a certain share of intelligence and affection—when it is stated that her mother has steadfastly refused the most tempting offers of money (in one case $25,000) on the part of showmen who desired to exhibit her wonderful child for the astonishment of the public, and that she now refuses the most liberal offers of those connected with the various medical schools and museums of this city to permit her remains to be preserved "in the shrines of science;" and when it is added that such was the curiosity of those in the immediate neighborhood, when the fact of the death became known, that it was necessary to have a policeman to restrain the crowd from entering the house, our readers will be able to judge that here, indeed, was something remarkable. It was remarkable, the most remarkable case of its kinder record. It was an instance of that disease which would be more common did it not usually terminate the lives of its victims at an early date—we mean hydrocephalus, or, as it is more popularly termed, "water on the brain." The case has been long under the eye of some of the most eminent physicians in the city, and notices of it have already appeared in medical publications. Probably the most complete is that which has been prepared by Dr. Sequin, of this city, the eminent authority of Idiocy, and which appears in his recently issued work on that subject. From it we learn the following:

The largest puffing up of the cranium, by effusion, he knows is that presented by Miss Maria T—— of this city, who, at the time of his observation, was seventeen years old. Her head was thirty-seven inches in its circumference, and twenty-seven and a half over the vortex, from one ear to the other. Between the same points, round the base of the forehead, it measured only thirteen inches, "a subsidence so extreme that it strikes one with awe." Lower down the body was a "mere skeleton," whose thighs were forever crossed; if straightened, they slowly resumed their twisted position; the feet were thus transposed from right to left; were strongly arched and protruded in a stiff mechanical way, like those of wooden dolls. Her arms and hands he compares to wooden forks; they moved slowly but certainly toward their object, of which the fingers would take hold by crossing each other, "as the elongated claws of a prisoner bird do when seizing a tiny wire." She never assumed the sitting or standing posture. Her animal functions were always good, and she used, by preference, animal food. She began to speak when five years old. Her senses were acute, but at twelve years of age she lost her sight. A little over a year ago, she had spasms for the first time. She then commenced to grow weaker and "entered on her period of decay." Though her brain was, we may say, drowned in an ocean of heterogeneous fluid, it kept up active communication with the world. She was cheerful, sung and talked until lately, used playthings as ordinary children do, liked to see bright objects waving before her eyes, and, even to the last, she amused herself by making papers rustle, and move before her absent vision, muttering yet, though indistinctly, "Hurrah for the colors! Hurrah for the flag"—touching reminiscences of popular festivities which impressed her at an earlier period. Her gentle disposition, her affections and family feelings, testified of the angel spirit which ministered to her, and brought to her couch every thing which could feed the body and the soul.—New York News.

Trinity Church Trouble.

A year ago Trinity Church was, financially, as poor as a church mouse. In May last a large amount of finely improved property held by the Astors under a long lease reverted to it again; and Trinity vestry found itself in receipt of an income of $600,000 per annum. In its poorest days it had practiced economy with great success, and on entering on its prosperous career it found that it could do business in the same style at an annual expenditure of only sixty thousand dollars. This would have left, and probably will leave, the vestry a handsome sum at the end of the year, unless the numerous claimants who have suddenly sprung up succeed in establishing their claims to the property which has reverted to the Trinity Church corporation. There are not less than 700 claimants for various portions of the reverted property; and Trinity Church has the prospect before it of a generation or two of litigation. This state of affairs is another of the windfalls for General Dix, and may have something to do with his declination of the French mission. For forty years General Dix has been the counsel for Trinity Church corporation. His son, Rev. Morgan Dix, is rector of Trinity parish.—N. Y. Paper.

A Boy Ten Years Old Shoots a Drunken Madman.

Last Thursday, James Curpole, a citizen of Ballard County, living about ten miles from Hullville, opposite this city, became infuriated by liquor, and demeaned himself in an outrageous manner. Mounting his horse, he galloped furiously along the road, attempting to ride down the people he met. Visiting the farms of several of his neighbors, he made repeated efforts to ride into the houses; and, in one or two instances, insulted women by using violence upon them, frightening them from their homes. Finally, as he was passing along the highway, he met a son of Mr. Kit. Tyroll, aged about ten years, and attempted to ride over him. The boy had a shot-gun upon his shoulder, having been in the woods hunting. He avoided the horse's hoofs several times, and at length fired upon the madman who was riding him. The shot took effect, breaking Curpole's arm and wounding him severely in the side. He fell to the ground, and was picked up by some of the citizens residing in the neighborhood, who properly cared for him. His life is despaired of, but he may recover.—Cairo Democrat, Oct 6.

WHAT depends on the autumnal elections may be seen by a glance at the following: West Virginia, 3 Representatives; New York, 1 Senator and 33 Representatives; Massachusetts, 10 Representatives; New Jersey, 1 Senator and 5 Representatives; Maryland, 1 Senator and 5 Representatives; Michigan, 6 Representatives; Illinois, 1 Senator and 14 Representatives; Wisconsin, 1 Senator and 6 Representatives; Minnesota, 2 Representatives; Delaware, 1 Representative, Missouri, 1 Senator and 9 Representatives; Kansas, 2 Senators and 1 Representative; Nevada, 1 Senator and 1 Representative.

A HUNDRED BABIES IN A STALLE.—An English paper says: "An old stable with one hundred little babes nestling in the horse troughs is something of a novelty, but the spectacle is daily to be seen in the locality of Union street, Borough road, London. The work has been somewhat recently undertaken by the Rev. George Aldington, who at his own expense secured an old stable to form a nursery, and fitted it up for taking care of the babes of women obliged to go to char or work away from home. The hay cribs remain and serve as cradles."

—The editor of the Houston (Texas) Journal has an exalted idea of magnanimity. Hear him: He says—"Our lips are still swollen with the powder of the cartridge that we bit; our hands still burn with the red fire of the hot gun barrel; yet we forgive and forget."

—Lord Brougham is eighty-eight, but he has accepted a invitation to make a public address this month.

—As one single drop of black ink will tinge and pollute a vessel of crystal water, so one little act of faithlessness may irredeemably poison a whole lifetime of the purest friendship and confidence.

—California, which in 1857 imported about 50,000 barrels of flour, can export this year, according to the estimate of the California Farmer, something like two and a half millions of barrels.

THE GREAT ACCLIMATING TONIC—Wherever HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the celebrated American preventive of Climatic Diseases, have been introduced into unhealthy regions, their effects in sustaining the health, vigor and animal spirits of those whose pursuits subjected them to extraordinary risks from exposure and privation, have been wonderful. In the Army the superiority of this article over every other invigorating and alterative medicine has become so manifest, in places where used, that it is relied upon, exclusively, as a protection against Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, and Bowel complaints of every kind. The soldiers say it is the ONLY stimulant which produces and keeps up a healthy habit of body in unwholesome localities. For the unacclimated pioneer and settler it is the most reliable of all safeguards against sickness. Throughout the United States it is considered the most healthful and agreeable of all tonics, and altogether unequaled as a remedy for Dyspepsia. The medicinal ingredients are all vegetable, and are held in solution by the most wholesome stimulant known—the Essence of Rye.

HOSTETTER'S BITTERS

Are manufactured at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and no less than 50,000 dozen bottles are sold annually by druggists.

J. B. CAPEWELL,

WIND-GUARD AND AIR-HEATER FOR COAL OIL LAMPS.

PATENTED OCTOBER 27TH, 1865.

The merits of this invention consist in its protection to lamp chimneys, which are continually breaking while being used with the ordinary lamps. No wicken thrown from heat to cold can crack or break these chimneys; the lamps can be carried with safety and without apprehension, in the most rough manner, rendering a steady light under all circumstances, and the fact that one-third less of oil is consumed, render this a most valuable acquisition to house-keepers. Samples sent to any part of the U. S. on receipt of 25 cents, post-paid.

Agents wanted in A. D. CAPEWELL.

Shoulder Straps.

The strength of the human body can be materially enhanced by the use of one of "Dr. Keyser's Shoulder Braces," which, although they have heretofore been unrivalled, have been lately improved, so as to meet every indication needed in the use of such an appliance. The Doctor's braces not only enlarge and give capaciousness to the chest and lungs but by so doing add to a man's general health and consequently to his ability for usefulness, for health adds to a man's power to be useful.

We know of no invention of recent times which have done more to ward off consumption and add to human usefulness and longevity than Dr. Keyser's Shoulder Braces, unless indeed it be the unrivalled Pectoral Syrup, prepared and sold by him now for so many years. The Doctor's medicines are all prepared with the greatest science and skill, and ought, and do, meet the approval of the community. 149 Wood street. Consultation rooms, 139 Penn street.

The merits are beyond parallel when compared with other cough remedies. It is entirely free from the nauseating and debilitating drugs, formerly used in such compounds, such as Squills, Antimony, &c.

Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup has the great merit of curing at the outset any disease of the throat and lungs, which if allowed to run on might, like a mountain on fire, bring ruin and devastation in its track, but which, if timely arrested, does no further mischief.

Dr. Keyser's Pectoral is performing hundreds of cures of coughs, colds, hoarseness and other lung maladies daily, until the fame and praise is in the mouth of all who need a cough medicine. Sold at 149 Wood street; consulting rooms 139 Penn street.

A Family Quarrel.

Margaret Connelly occupies a dilapidated tenement at Point alley, in the First ward, in conjunction with her sister Mary Connelly. The latter, according to the statement of the former, is in possession of a villainous tongue which she uses to defame the good character of her sister. This predilection she has carried to such an excess within the last few weeks that Margaret was forced to appear before Alderman Donaldson, yesterday, and make oath against the "erring one" for disorderly conduct. The accused was arrested and a hearing was arranged for two o'clock in the afternoon, but to the disappointment of the magistrate and defendant the prosecutrix failed to put in an appearance, whereupon she was discharged and the prosecutrix arrested and made to pay the cost, which she did, although objecting strongly to the way in which the case terminated.

Knocked into the Gutter.

Last evening between six and seven o'clock a man named Michael Toal went reeling along Pennsylvania avenue in a beastly state of intoxication. When near the corner of Congress street he came in collision with an old lady, heavily burdened with a weighty market basket, and the result was the woman was thrown into the gutter, the contents of her basket being cast in every direction. Instead of offering an apology the scoundrel began to abuse the victim of his carelessness in a terrible manner, calling her very hard names and threatening to do her violence. A couple of special police arrived at this juncture, and Michael was conveyed to the town, where he will doubtless have the opportunity to sober up and pay for his madness. Fortunately the lady received very slight injuries.

Supreme Court.

The Court met at the appointed hour yesterday morning—a full bench present. The following cases were heard:

Pennsylvania Railroad vs. Allen; Erie county. Argument closed by J. Ross Thompson, Esq., for plaintiff in error.

Kelly vs. Tibbals; Erie county. Argued by James C. Murdoch, Esq., for plaintiff in error, and by Benj. Grant, Esq., contra.

Tanner vs. Oil Creek Railroad Company; Erie county. Argued by George W. DeCamp, Esq., for plaintiff in error, and by J. Wetmore, Esq., contra.

Turner et. al. vs. Scott; Erie county. Argued by S. E. Woodruff, Esq., for plaintiff in error, and by J. C. Marshall, Esq., contra.

Hardscrabble Again.—Mary King is a respectable female and resides in that cauldron of trouble, Hardscrabble, in close by a certain Catherine Breese. According to the statement of Mary her neighbor is in the habit of walking up and down the street in front of her door, and within hearing distance of the domicil of one Jennie Marcy, and calling the quiet Mary all sorts of hard names, as well as repeating certain family matters not well calculated to elevate the character of the latter. Yesterday Catherine committed the old offense for which she was brought before Alderman Donaldson on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred against her by Mrs. King. There will be a hearing in the case to-day.

Charged with Stealing Clothing.—Maggie Bell came to the office of Alderman Lynch yesterday and entered suit against Mary Bender for the larceny of several articles of ladie's wearing apparel, the property of Maggie, from the residence of Mrs. Burke, in the Seventh ward. The accused was brought before the magistrate, to whom she told her tale of sorrow and suffering, winding up by declaring the articles which she was accused of stealing were her own, and that the prosecution was purely a malicious one. Notwithstanding the appeal Mary was committed in default of the required bail to the close confines of the county jail to await a hearing to-day.

Malicious Mischief.—A woman named Mrs. Sarah Gracer appeared before Alderman Lynch yesterday, and made oath against a certain John Cunningham for malicious mischief. The offence consisted in John forcing a heavily laden store wagon in collision with a buggy, owned by the prosecutrix, with a malicious intent to destroy the same. Cunningham was arrested, and after a hearing in the case, was forced to give bail in the sum of three hundred dollars for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court.

Serious Accident.—James Chertsey, a painter, while engaged in painting a conductor attached to the eave of the dwelling house of Antoine Herrman, in the Sixth ward, fell from the ladder upon which he was perched to the ground beneath, a distance of twenty feet, injuring himself so severely that his life is despaired of. He was conveyed to his home in Birmingham where Dr. Denny dressed his wounds.

Nuisance.—Samuel Kerr was charged, before Alderman Negrow, yesterday, with keeping and maintaining a nuisance on his premises, in Virgin alley, by J. B. Williams, Assistant Officer to the Board of Health. He was found guilty and costs, which he paid and was discharged.

Special Caution.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has become so popular that various parties have put out articles calling them Mrs. Winslow's. Please take notice that the Mrs. Winslow of the Soothing Syrup is not connected with any other article

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

FROM NEW YORK.

Destructive Fire—The President Adheres to His Policy—The Recent Outrages by Kentucky "Regulators"—Impudence Rebuked—Meeting—Horace Greeley Nominated for Congress.

New York, Oct. 16.—On Tuesday last the yachts Vesta, owned by Mr. Pierre Lartillard, and Halcyon, belonging to Mr. John Hubbard, will test their sailing qualities over the course from Sand's Point to the New London Light Ship, and back to the place of starting. The latter is to be allowed time for the discrepancy in size according to the rules of the New York Yacht Club. Another race will take place on the 30th instant, between the Vesta and the new yacht I. Stirandelier, owned by Mr. Bradford. They will start from Sandy Hook and sail twenty miles to windward and back.

The Herald's special says: In the fire at Ottawa yesterday, the whole of the buildings between Murray and Clarence streets, opposite the Market square, were destroyed. The estimated loss is from $30,000 to $50,000, only $30,000 or $40,000 insurance, principally in the British American, and London, and Liverpool offices. The fire was the result of an accident.

A Herald's Washington special says: The rumor that the President had written to Southern Governors advising them to convene their Legislatures and recommend the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment, is undoubtedly incorrect, as no positive indications have yet been exhibited tending to show that the President will swerve from his purpose—not to be a party to the granting of universal negro suffrage in any shape.

Brevet Major General Jeff. C. Davis, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, State of Kentucky, in his report to the Commissioner, dated October 8th, gives an account of the outrages committed by a lawless organization lately sprung into existence in that State, known by the name of the Regulators. He states that there were sixty-six cases of violence towards the colored population reported during the month of August, for which only eight arrests were made, and these outrages were generally robbery and whipping negroes, and were usually perpetrated at night by white men in disguises, and styling themselves "The Regulators." The very small number arrested is owing, first, to the inability of the sufferers to identify by name under oath the persons who committed the crimes and second, the want of cavalry troops to make arrests, the regulators being generally mounted and well armed. In none of these cases has there been a conviction, owing to the State civil authorities arresting and punishing the offenders. Of the eight men arrested one was released on account of informality of evidence, and one on a writ of habeas corpus before being delivered to the general's headquarters. He was turned over to the United States Marshal for trial before the United States Circuit Court for this district. In the latter part of August last, reliable information was received at the office of the Chief Department of the Bureau, that over one hundred negroes were forced by the Regulators to leave their homes in Gallatin county, and go to Indiana for safety. Five of the Gallatin county Regulators have been identified and arrested, and the same action will be taken with the rest as soon as proper evidence of identity can be procured.

The meeting at Cooper Institute to ratify the nominations was a large and enthusiastic one. It was addressed by Hannibal Hamlin, Senator Wilson and others. The addresses strongly favored the right of Congress to prescribe terms and conditions for the Southern States, and deprecated the action of President Johnson as making more complex the difficulties which attend their admission on a sure and permanent foundation of peace and harmony.

Horace Greeley was nominated for Congress in the Fourth District last night.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The President's Position—Alleged Defalcation—Troops Concentrating at New York—Southern Papers on the Late Riots—Fenian Excitement in Canada—Beecher Defines His Position.

New York, Oct. 16.—A Washington special says: The rumor that the President has written to Southern Governors advising them to convene their Legislatures and recommend the adoption of the Constitutional amendment is undoubtedly incorrect, as no positive indications have yet been exhibited tending to show that the President will swerve from his purpose, nor to be a party to the granting of universal negro suffrage in any shape it may be. However the result of the New York elections, if unfavorable to the Union Natives, may tend to ameliorate his views, and a compromise betw en himself and Congress may be effected at the next session.

The timber of the President's message is already being prepared and some of its proportions shaped. The superstructure will not, however, be completed until the November election shall have decidedly expressed the tone of the people at New York.

A Tribune's dispatch says: Rumor states that a certain New York city politician who figured conspicuously in the Philadelphia Convention left town last Friday morning with about twenty thousand dollars, which was obtained under queer circumstances, and the National Bank of the Metropolis, of this city, is reported as the victim. The Cashier of this Bank is a large stockholder in a National Bank at Memphis, Tennessee, and has deposited there some $15,000 belonging to that institution which, when called for, produced a sensation. The matter was, after considerable delay, arranged by the payment of $5,000 cash, and notes for the balance, of about $40,000. These are now said to be over due, and between the two trials rumor says this Washington bank will be seriously crippled. The Cashier is to leave for New York to-morrow.

There is some interest manifested in regard to the concentration of troops at this point, but all excitement will be allayed when the pacific policy of the Administration is announced.

Gen Beauregard leaves here for the South to-morrow. The principal object of his visit has been to secure the restoration of certain personal effects in possession of the government, and which are no value to any but himself.

Full files of Southern papers which have been delayed by the storm, arrived to-night. Almost every one of them is filled with comments on the elections, in which the hostility to the Constitutional Amendment is expressed.

New York dispatches from Canada indicate another Fenian scare. One dispatch from Toronto says: A large amount of military stores arrived here to-night, consisting of heavy artillery, wagons and ammunition. All is quiet at Fort Erie to-day. The military have been under arms all night, and special police have been sworn in.

A full Cabinet meeting is called for at Ottawa to-morrow, to consider what the position of Canada would be if President Johnson makes a demand on England to settle the Alabama claims.

Henry Ward Beecher spoke last evening at the Brooklyn Academy, announcing his continued adherence to the Republican party as the true guardian of the interests of the Government. He urged the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment, and expressed his belief that the great majority of the South were in favor of right and justice to the negro.

Gen. Beauregard, it is discovered, did not succeed in reaching the President, but before his departure to-day, Gen. Grant assured his quondam antagonist that he would apply himself to procuring his personal effects from the hands of the War Department. This personal property was seized at the time of the fall of Greensboro, and while in transitu for Georgia. Beauregard has left for New Orleans.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

TUESDAY, October 16, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 148½; 1881's, 112½; 5-20's, old, 113¼; do new, 110¾; 10-40s, 109½; 7-30's, 1st series, 109⅝; do 2d, 109⅞. Michigan Southern, R. R., 89¾—a decline of 3 per cent. Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 89⅝—a decline of 4 per cent. Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 109⅝—off 1⅝. Erie, 83¼—fall 1¾. Western Union Telegraph Company, 54½—a decline of 1 per cent. Chicago & Rock Island, 107¾—a decline of 2⅝. Chicago & North Western, 64½—a decline of 2¼. do preferred, 74½—a decline of 2⅝.

As will be seen by the above quotations, there has been a break in the New York market in railways. The average decline is about 3 per cent. Governments are unmoved, save in certain 7-thirties, which fell off only one-eighth.

Our local market exhibits but little change. Governments are steady at nearly the current rates, and quotations from New York adding the cost of shipping between the two points. Orders for Seven-Thirty bonds can be filled from the eastern market, and therefore rate here a shade nigher than in New York.

We have no change to note in home stocks. Bank shares are firm, with but few offered on the market. We quoted National Bank of Commerce a day or two since at 105@107—the latter figure is offered for some to-day. 99 was bid for Fourth National, and a few shares changed hands at that figure. Nothing of interest transpiring in oils. Columbia held at 17—16¾ bid. Another sale of Paxton at 16c.

—That our readers may have some idea of the productiveness of the great west and the amount of business which it gives to the transporting companies, we present the following figures showing the receipts at the following lake ports for the week ending October 6:

	Flour.	Wheat.	Corn.	Oats.	Barley.
Chicago...	31,934	780,735	573,402	197,008	139,660

Cor. week	120,315	1,128,987	1,025,253	253,469	52,166

—Satterthwaite, a Circular of September 29, says: "In the London market for American securities there has not been quite so much activity during the past week as we have noticed of late, and there is still a declining tendency. The settlement developed a large over-bought account in United States 5-20 bonds, and under these circumstances the price has given way to 71¾@71⅝, a decline of one per cent on the week. For Illinois shares there has been but little inquiry, and they have declined to 77¾@77⅞."

Bailey's Circular says: "The demand has been very slack this week, and prices have declined, while it is reported that large amount of the United States 5-20 bonds are here for sale. We quote these to-day 71¾@71⅝. Illinois Central Railroad shares 77@78. Erie shares 47 to 48."

—The return from the Bank of England for the week ending Sept. 26 gives the amount of notes in circulation at £33,040,085, being a decrease of £267,035. The stock of bullion is £16,720,202, showing an increase of £36,754 above the preceding statement. It is now almost exactly four years since the stock of gold stood at its present amount, and the rate of discount was then as low as 3 per cent. The present rate is 4½ per cent, and there are some who, taking into consideration its resources, argue that it will be still further lowered under the influence of the large accumulation of metals and the favorable state of the continental exchanges. A low rate invariably indicates stagnation in the movement of capital. This is now the case on the continent, and particularly in France, the accumulation of gold and silver in the Bank of France being enormous, and great difficulty is experienced by the bank in making loans at even 1½@2 per cent upon good security.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, October 16, 1866.

CATTLE.

The market was a little more active this week, and good retailing cattle sold without much difficulty, and if anything, prices ruled a shade higher for this particular grade. Common cattle, as has been the case for some time past, were dull and neglected, the demand being very light, and besides, the season is now almost too late for "stockers." The demand for good shipping cattle was somewhat better than last week, several bunches changing hands for that purpose, and this, as a matter of course, had a tendency to make the market considerably firmer than it would otherwise have been. Another point to be noticed, is the fact that the supply was somewhat below the usual average, though it was fully up to the demand, yet, as has been the case for some weeks past, there were but very few left over unsold.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The retail demand for Sheep is not as active as it was during the summer, yet the supply has fallen off correspondingly, and as a consequence, prices are pretty well sustained. Prime fat mutton sheep may be quoted at 6 to 6¼, and common to medium at 5 to 5½. Myers & Needy paid 6 cts for a drove averaging 100 lbs. Lambs sold at from 4½ to 5½ per head.

SWINE.

Hogs in rather better retail demand, but there is no improvement to note in prices, and we continue to quote at 9½ to 10½, for fair to good averages.

REPORTED SALES OF CATTLE.

Glass & Lafferty retailed 80 head of mixed cattle—oxen, cows, steers—at 4 to 6¼. H. P. Hudson sold 19 head to Marks & Trauman averaging 1000 pounds, at 5½. Gartrell to same buyer 21 head at 5,10.

Marvin to Greenwald & Kahn 20 head of smooth Western Reserve steers at 6¾. Gartrell to Rothschilds & Eckert 21 head of fairish cows at $43 per head. Taylor sold Marks & Trauman 24 head of common steers and cows at $43.

Thayer sold Carr & McCallister 20 head of Western Reserve cows and heifers at 6¼. Merrick & Doud retailed 45 head at 6¼@6¾. Kraus & Haas 31 head, and Greenwald & Kahn 26 head.

Myers & Needy sold 67 head of prime shipping cattle, averaging 1250, to Barney Gray at 8,30, 13 head commonish steer cattle to Byerly at 5¼@5 do do to Garland at 5,35; retailed 100 head at 5¾@6¼.

Marks & Trauman retailed 106 head at 5,85 to 6¾—14 head left over. Okey & Shank sold 16 head of steers, averaging about 1200, to Myers & Needy at 7¼.

Bingman sold Barney Gray 29 head, averaging 1250, at 7c—6¾ over. Hamlin retailed 18 head at 5¾ to 6¾. Emill & Fowler 33 head at 5@7. Hazlewood & Co. 75 head.

New York Financial Matters.

New York, Oct. 16.—The money market is more active, at 7@7 per cent., chiefly at the latter rate. Sterling firm, at 107@107¾. Gold heavy and decidedly lower, opening at 149¾, advancing to 150, declining to 147, and closing at 148¾. Government Stocks less active and a shade easier. Freights to Liverpool quiet and without decided change.

Stocks steady; Milwaukee and St. Paul, 76¾; Fort Wayne, 109¾; Rock Island, 109¼; Cleveland and Toledo, 92¾; North Western, 64; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 92; Illinois Central, 109¾; Michigan Central, 99¾; Erie, 83½; Hudson River, 127½; New York Central, 118; Western Union Telegraph, 55¾; Five-Twenties, new issue, 108¼; Ten-Forties registered, 89½; Seven-Thirties 1st, 105⅝; do 2d, 105⅝.

The Commercial says the article says: The Stock market this morning shows a very decided weakness. The supposition that the Government may sell gold in amounts sufficient to affect the money market unfavorably has produced a disposition to sell stocks, and as the morning board the anxiety to realize had the effect of pulling down prices, on an average about 1½@2 per cent, although the transactions were by no means large. The market is panicky with no adequate cause. Governments are a fraction lower in sympathy with the decline in gold. Five-Twenties and seven-thirties bring all ½ down. Money is in rather active demand. Some insiders are trying to obtain 8 per cent. on call, but the bulk of current transactions are still down at 7 per cent. Paper is not quite so current at old rates. Prime bills pass at 8@9 per cent. Sterling exchange is easier than yesterday, but decidedly weak. Foreign Exchange more in demand and decidedly firmer.

Sterling's money article says: Gold is lower to-day, partly in consequence of a desire to realize on the part of weak holders, but chiefly because of the report that the government was about to sell, or was actually selling, at a price has gone down to 147, but closes with an upward tendency. The Loan market is rather more active, but with an easier tone, rates are unchanged. Call Loans range at 5 per cent, and Discounts at 6@8.

Stocks are dull. Governments are quiet and more attention to sell. Railroad shares are lower, especially Toledo, Pittsburgh, Michigan Southern, and Erie. After the board there was a rally, and prices were rather better at the close. Of the sales at the regular session New York Central, 120; Erie, 82½; Hudson River, 126½; Reading, 113¾; Michigan Southern, 90½; Illinois Central, 126½; Pittsburgh, 79; Chicago and Rock Island, 109¾; Fort Wayne, 110. Foreign Exchange is firm. Bills at six days on London are quoted at 108½@108¾ for commercial; 107¾@108¼ for bankers; do. at short sight, 107¾@108¼.

Legal—Tuesday.—Money was more easily had early in the day, but it was nearly all taken up soon after call, and the market may be called quite easy. Prime Discounts are 6@7 per cent. The Gold market was firmer to-day, and left off at 149. Exchange is declining, the market for Foreign Exchange is decidedly more active and rates have advanced. Prime sixty days bills at 109@109¼; sight bills are 109¾@110. The Government sales are quoted as follows, as reported in modernized request of these questions: Registered of 1881, 112@112¼; Coupons do, 112¾@112¾; Five-Twenties registered of 1862, 109¾@110; Five-Twenties Coupons, 112@112¾; August Seven-Thirties, 106¾@106¾; June do, 105¾@106; July do, 105¾@105¾. Gold 148¾@149.

At the last open board the stock market was easy, with a further general advance in prices. The following were the closing prices: T. & W. 89¾; A. 53; Quicksilver, 54¾@55. Mariposa, 10¾@10¾; do preferred, 20@20¼; W. U. T., 55¾@55¾; Erie, 83¼; Hudson, 127¾@128; Reading, 113¾@113¾; M. C., 115¾@115; M. S. 89¾@90.

PETROLEUM ON THE DECLINE.

New York, October 16.—Letters from Liverpool advise a heavy market for Petroleum, the receipts being more free, and the supply previously in excess of the demand. Refined Pa. was readily offered at 1s. 10d. per gallon, without finding buyers.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, October 16, 1866.

There are no new features in the produce markets worthy of special notice. There is a fair jobbing demand for most of the leading commodities, but values generally speaking, have undergone no material change.

ASHES—Soda Ash is in rather better demand, and is shade firmer. Sales at for common, and 6¼ for Refined. Pearlash quiet and nominal at 15.

APPLES—The demand is rather better, and prime to choice Apples are a shade higher. Sales reported at $3,50 to $4 for good to prime, and $5,50 for choice.

GRAIN—Wheat is more active and firm but unchanged. Sale of 1 car No. 1 Spring at $2,05; 1 do at $2,05; 1 car Red Winter at $2,30; 1 car White at $3, and 1 car prime No. 2 Spring at $2,55. Oats firm, with a steady demand, and regular sales at 50 to 51, on track, and in elevator, and 54 to 55 from store. Sale of 1 car Corn at 93, and 1 do prime do at $1. No movement in Rye, and but little doing in Barley. The latter may be quoted at $1,20 to $1,25 for No. 2, and $1,50 for choice.

FLOUR—Is firm, with a fair jobbing demand, but prices remain unchanged. We continue to quote in a regular way from store at $12,00 to $12,50 for Spring, and $13 to store at $12,00 to $12,50 for Spring, and $13 to $13,50 for Winter Wheat brands. Rye Flour is quoted at $7,50 for new, and old at $6,50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is dull but unchanged. We quote at 17 to 17¼ for Shoulders; 18¼ to 19 for Sides; and 25 for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is quiet at 19½ to 20, and Smoked Pork at $25.

CHEESE—Is in better supply and a shade easier. We now quote at 17 for Western Reserve; 18 for Hamburg; and 20 to 22 for Goshen.

BUTTER—Is quiet and unchanged with a supply of common packed considerably in excess of the demand. Prime Roll is selling at 35 to 38.

EGGS—Scarce, and as there is considerable inquiry, fresh packed sell readily at 30.

SEED—Flaxseed is in demand and firm at $3, while Timothy is dull with small sales at same figure. Clover seed is quoted at $8.

SWEET POTATOES—Quoted at $4,75 to $5.

PIG LEAD—Is held at 11½@12.

CRANBERRIES—Quoted firm at $15 per bbl.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, October 16, 1866.

CRUDE—The market continues dull and weak, and notwithstanding the stock in this market is pretty well reduced, the supply nevertheless is considerably in excess of the demand, and prices are barely maintained—13 to 13¼ in bulk, and 13 to 13½ in packages included. Sale of 4500 bbls, in bulk, at 13; and 1000 do (40 gravity) at 13½. There is some little inquiry for small lots of barreled oil of 40 gravity for shipment, but unfortunately, there is little or none of this particular description in market. Usually, sale will command a fraction more than barreled oil, but stocks are so reduced that it would now command a fraction more than the former, for the reason above stated. Our refiners, as a general thing, are pretty well stocked, and do not seem disposed to contract for any more, even at present quotations.

REFINED—There is no improvement to note in the demand for refined oil, either for present or future delivery, and the market is dull and weak with a drooping tendency. In the absence of sales, we quote nominally at 33½ to 34, free on board here, and 40 to 40½, delivered in Philadelphia. The foreign news is very discouraging, the foreign markets being reported dull and not overflowing, and buyers scarce. It is possible that there may be a reaction before long; in fact, it is even probable as one extreme brings on another, but this season is too far advanced for anything like a permanent improvement, and those are the views generally entertained by the most shrewd observers of the trade. Free oil is dull and nominal at 54 to 55.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals continue very heavy, and the market will hardly be much of an increase until there is another swell in the river. Messrs. Fisher & Bro. report having received 1135 bbls.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, October 19.—The firmness in the Dry Goods trade continues, notwithstanding the absence of business. The advance in cotton in Liverpool to 15¾d, and the light stock of goods of a leading character in this market, add to the firmness, and gives holders increased confidence. It is also felt that the interior market is not yet supplied, and there must be a very liberal demand for goods before winter sets in. With this feeling, manufacturers can afford to keep up prices until stocks begin to accumulate. The demand is very light and irregular, yet sufficient to take up all leading goods as fast as they arrive. In some less desirable grades the stocks are increasing, and there is less firmness, but no decline.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with scant six feet in the channel by the marks last evening. The weather continues clear and pleasant, and all that could possibly be desired for out door operations.

There has been no arrivals since our last report aside from the regular packets, and the Julia, for Portsmouth, was the only departure.

The Grey Eagle, from Parkersburg, is due here this morning, and will return again at noon.

Business continues rather dull at the wharf, and freights for all points are scarce. The Monongahela River packets appear to be doing a moderate business, though we are of the opinion that their earnings are not very heavy. The Pittsburgh and Zanesville trade seems to be about played out, as both boats, the Julia No. 2 and the Emma Graham, are off the track. The Julia is now plying in the Pittsburgh Portsmouth trade, and the Graham is offered for sale. The Pittsburgh and Parkersburg packets appear to be doing a very good business, and we have no doubt these boats make very fair returns to their owners. The New State has withdrawn from the Pittsburgh and Wheeling trade. The Allegheny River packets have made a few trips this fall, and here as well as other places, business has fallen off, which is owing to the fact that we now have railroad communication with Oil City, notwithstanding it is in a roundabout way. It is thought that the Allegheny Valley Railroad will be completed through by next July, after which time there will be but little, if any further use for steamboats, on the Allegheny River.

The Delaware, from Cincinnati, and Armenia, from St. Louis, are among the first boats due. The former boat has a cargo of metal.

In point of speed the Quickstep has come up to the most sanguine expectations of owners and builders, and so far, we understand, she has proved able to successfully cope with the fleetest boats she has yet come in contact with. This commodious steamer, in command of Captain Wm. R. Donaldson, with Samuel Barr, jr., in the office, leaves for Cincinnati today, at noon, without fail, and passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind.

The Glasgow, Capt. G. W. Johnston, is filling up steadily, and will be the first boat out for St. Louis. She is also receiving Upper Mississippi freights. The Glasgow will be followed by the Minnie.

The Aurora, Capt. T. H. Golding is announced for Memphis and New Orleans.

On Monday morning, as the tow boat General Larimer was attempting to pass Lock No. 2, at Fort Perry, having several loaded coal barges in charge, she came in contact with the bulwarks, broke her wheel, sunk one of the barges, and slightly injured her Captain, Robert Gaffer. The sunken barge and its contents belonged to the Misneravville Coal Company.

Capt. Geo. W. Reed, James Russell, and Geo. R. Spinks have purchased interests in the steamer Columbia, and are now loading her for Cincinnati and Louisville. Capt. Reed assumes command, Mr. Russell, and Capt. Spinks take charge of the office, the former at the first clerk, and the latter as second. The aforementioned gentlemen are all old and experienced steamboatmen, and we hope they will receive as they deserve a good trip. The Columbia is in tip top order, having just been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, and is in first-rate condition for business.

Messrs. Oberlin and Hollinger, both old steamboat stewards, have opened a first-class eating house in the northeast corner of the Allegheny market house, where they will be happy to have their steamboat friends, and the public generally, call on them.

Says the Cincinnati Gazette, of Monday: Business on the Ohio and common rivers has been dull and lifeless. The election had no doubt a great deal to do with bringing about this state of affairs, but now that it is over, we predict the present week will present more lively times, as we understand that several heavy orders have been received within the last few days from the South, principally for agricultural implements and other plantation supplies. The local packets, with but few exceptions, have done a fair amount of business, both in the way of carrying freight and passengers, and we understand that took their departures last week had good trips. The up river trade is gradually on the increase.

The Louisville Democrat, of Sunday, gets off the following:

Dave Claxon, Jim Runyan, and one or two others, down-town Ohio river ship agents from the channel rivals of the Gidney up the river last trip, and set a quali trap on the roof of the boat. They succeeded in capturing a few of the festive birds. One of them, however, discovered Jim looking through the "titter," with his eyes glaring like a pair of inverted new moons, and his mouth watering like a Chinese meal door turned round once and twice, lal l down and died from fright. The bird knew its fate when it discovered the opening under Jim's nose.

RAPIDS IN THE MISSISSIPPI.—Somewhat singular rapids are forming in the Mississippi River between Cairo and Bird's Point. The current sets strongly against the Missouri shore, cutting it away rapidly, but, in deepening the channel, as the bottom is composed of either rocks or hard blue clay, which seem to come nearer the surface as the channel moves toward Bird's Point. As the natural deposits of the river fill up on the Cairo side in proportion as it cuts away on the opposite side, a partial dam is thus produced by the rising ledges of rock, and the current in low water becomes so swift for about fifty yards that small boats have much trouble in going through it.
